WHY SEL?

Today's educators are taking a closer look at the non-academic skills and competencies children need to have in order to facilitate learning and succeed in society. We all develop these social-emotional learning (SEL) skills throughout our lives; they help us manage our emotions, relate to each other, and make decisions that not only affect our lives but everyone around us. In this catalog, Lerner has assembled a list of books that educators can use to help readers reflect on SEL characteristics, discuss values and decisions, examine characters' responses to situations, and deepen their understanding of SEL skills. We identified the specific competencies using the CASEL Five, from the Collaborative for Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning. Use the key below to identify the areas covered in our books, and the index in the back of this flyer to locate titles by competency.

WHAT IS SOCIAL-EMOTIONAL LEARNING?

"Social and emotional learning (SEL) is the process through which children and adults understand and manage emotions, set and achieve positive goals, feel and show empathy for others, establish and maintain positive relationships, and make responsible decisions."

—Collaborative for Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning (CASEL)

FIVE CORE COMPETENCIES FROM CASEL

A SELF-AWARENESS

"The ability to accurately recognize one's emotions and thoughts and their influence on behavior. This includes accurately assessing one's strengths and limitations and possessing a well-grounded sense of confidence and optimism."

B SELF-MANAGEMENT

"The ability to regulate one's emotions, thoughts, and behaviors effectively in different situations. This includes managing stress, controlling impulses, motivating oneself, and setting and working toward achieving personal and academic goals."

C SOCIAL AWARENESS

"The ability to take the perspective of and empathize with others from diverse backgrounds and cultures, to understand social and ethical norms for behavior, and to recognize family, school, and community resources and supports."

D RELATIONSHIP SKILLS

"The ability to establish and maintain healthy and rewarding relationships with diverse individuals and groups. This includes communicating clearly, listening actively, cooperating, resisting inappropriate social pressure, negotiating conflict constructively, and seeking and offering help when needed."

E RESPONSIBLE DECISION-MAKING

"The ability to make constructive and respectful choices about personal behavior and social interactions based on consideration of ethical standards, safety concerns, social norms, the realistic evaluation of consequences of various actions, and the well-being of self and others."
