Mission Survival: Saving Earth's Endangered Animals

Mission Survival introduces and explores some of the most threatened animals on the International Union for Conservation of Nature Red List—animals that could become extinct if we don't do more to save them. Readers will learn what conservationists on a mission can do to save them, and what young people everywhere can do to help. This compelling, call-to-action series will inspire readers to join the fight to protect the planet and make a future career in conservation their mission, too.

One day, on the way home from the palace, the rabbi seemed queerer than usual. Eventually, he groaned and began to pray.

"Almighty God, please help me. The sultan wants me to write a medical book for him, but I'm already writing a guide to philosophy for my students and a book about astrology for the palace in France. And now there are all my patients to see and my duties as a rabbi. There aren't enough hours in the day for me to do all these things!"

The poor rabbi! He was like a donkey with a load that was too heavy for him. Hamor wished he could help. But what could a donkey do?

Sammy Spider

Sylvia A. Rouss, Illustrated by Katherine Janus Kahn

Josh Shapiro is a kind, smart Jewish boy who lives with his mother and father. Though he may not realize it, he lives with Sammy Spider, too. Sammy is a happy and inquisitive spider whose curiosity sometimes gets him into jams. But Sammy's mother is always there to guide the little spider and help him learn from his experiences!
