The Five Paragraph Essay

Conclusion
(or the "point")

Body
(supporting information)

Introduction
(foundation)

Review a nonfiction book that uses a list-type text structure. Create a text map for your book, and then answer the following questions.

- How many pages of introductory text does your book have?
- How many animal or plant examples are there?
- How many pages is the conclusion?
- How is the structure of this book similar to a five-paragraph essay?
How is it different?
